What is infusion therapy?

Infusion therapy is the medical treatment of certain illnesses and diseases by way of intravenous delivery. These treatments are now available at Fine Digestive Health, in coordination with Southside Pharmacy, making it easy and convenient for you to receive the treatment you need under the supervision of Dr. Fine.

Our mission is to deliver the highest quality of patient care, education and wellness information. We serve as advocates for our patients to empower them to live healthier, longer lives. We do this by offering medical services that are customized and managed by Dr. Fine in his office to ensure proper administration and optimal results.

What are the indications for infusion therapy?

Infusion therapy is prescribed by Dr. Jeffrey Fine based on his assessment of each individual patient's needs, medical history, physical exam and other diagnostic tests. He is committed to providing the highest standards of care while collaborating with each patient to administer the best course of treatment.

Medical conditions include:

- Ulcerative colitis
- Crohn's disease

- Neurological and rheumatological conditions

Process and approval for infusion therapy:

What to do:

- Schedule an appointment with Dr. Fine. He will write a prescription and send it to Southside Pharmacy
- Southside Pharmacy will contact your insurance provider to get authorization to begin your treatment
- They will contact you to let you know what your insurance will cover and if you will have any financial responsibility
- Once approved, Southside Pharmacy will schedule an appointment for infusion therapy in Dr. Fine's office.

- All insurance carriers are different, so getting authorization may take longer for some insurance companies than others. If you have questions or if you would like to know the status of your appointment, feel free to contact Southside Pharmacy at 832-831-7878 or you can email them at scheduling@ssrx.com.
